Steg Plumbing gave away an EasyWater System at the Indianapolis Home Show in February.

After the brutal winter weather that central Indiana experienced last season, you would think the technicians at Steg Plumbing would finally have a chance to catch their breath. Not quite. Not when there are EasyWater, No-Salt Water Conditioning Systems to install!

Steg Plumbing has been providing quality plumbing repair, service and installation to residents in the greater Indianapolis area since 1992. Owners, Brian and Cathy Stegemoller have grown the business over the past 18 years to 25 employees and 14 trucks out of their current location in Hendricks County. Steg Plumbing has evolved into a full-service plumbing company catering to custom and production homes, as well as commercial projects.

"We have trained technicians specializing in service and remodeling plumbing work. We also have specifically trained plumbers for our new construction projects," said Cathy Stegemoller, co-owner of Steg Plumbing. "We're not the big guy and we're not the small guy. We're someone in between. We're the plumber you can trust."

A believer in EasyWater, No-Salt Water Conditioning Systems

Steg Plumbing is an Authorized Dealer for FREIJE Treatment Systems, Inc., the maker of the EasyWater, No-Salt Water Conditioning System. This system physically changes the minerals in water to prevent them from forming scale. A traditional water softener replaces calcium and magnesium (known as hardness) with sodium or potassium.

Benefits of owning an EasyWater, No-Salt Water Conditioning System:

- No more salt bags to buy...EVER
- Protects appliances
- Conserves water
- Saves money
- Provides healthier living

Steg Plumbing recently gave away an EasyWater System at the Indianapolis Home Show in February 2011. A video of the recipient and installation can be viewed on the Steg Plumbing website at www.stegplumbing.com.

Quality and communication

Steg Plumbing offers quality plumbing at reasonable prices and can deliver same or next-day service, depending on the situation. The staff at Steg Plumbing sincerely cares about their customers and is striving to build long-term relationships. Communication is key in dealing with their customers. "We're building customers for tomorrow, not just for today." ❄️

At a glance

Steg Plumbing offers residential and commercial installation and service and more than 25 years of experience.
